Celtic power was at its height about 400 BC, when the Teutonic tribes of the East began to press upon them. Their religion included gods of the earth, of the woods, of the sun, of fire, and vast numbers of demons, elves, and tutelary beings. Human sacrifice, especially of prisoners taken in war, was an essential feature of their religious rites. The DRUIDS

Come back to the old restaurant & the old place. This restaurant does not have the same old feel. The people there are just so new & fresh & modern. I don't think I could ever go back to the old place.
I don't know if it's because I'm more interested in the new place, but I think it's because of the change.

SOPHISTS

PROTAGORAS of ABDELA (481-411BC)

was the earliest of the sophists

The Sophists attained great power in ancient Greece by their amenable doctrines.
Right was a matter of convention, and was that conduct which conferred the greatest good upon the greatest number; whatever society regarded as right was so. Conscience was a matter of education. Good conduct was
